« Et kann een nei Ufer nëmmen erreechen,
wann en de Courage huet déi al ze verloossen ! »

Dat aalt Ufer hu mir scho méi laang hannert eis gelooss, elo hu mir dat Neit (endlech) erreecht.
An zwar si mir vun elo un, mat eisem Gedéiesch, am Rollengergronn op der uewengenannter Adress doheem !

« On ne peut atteindre de nouveaux rivages, que si l'on a le courage de quitter les anciens ! »

Nous avons laissé l'ancienne rive derrière nous depuis un certain temps, maintenant nous avons (enfin) atteint la Nouvelle.
On nous trouvera désormais, avec nos deux animaux, au Rollingergrund, à l'adresse mentionnée ci-dessus !

« Man kann neue Ufer nur erreichen,
wenn man den Mut hat, die alten zu verlassen ! »

Das alte Ufer haben wir schon seit längerem hinter uns gelassen, jetzt haben wir das Neue (endlich) erreicht.
Wir sind von nun an, mit unseren beiden Haustieren, in Rollingergrund auf der oben angegebenen Adresse zuhause !

Félicitations sur votre nouvelle maison, et meilleurs voeux à l'avenir.

Dear Parents,
I need your help! Today we were supposed to read our gingerbread stories and share our gingerbread village with the folks at Stow Glen residential facility. Unfortunately, our Christmas snow has made it hard for them to come to our room. Therefore, I would love to present them to you, the ones we love the most, on Friday morning. Let's say 10:30! If you are available to come please feel free. It will only last about thirty minutes. We will share our stories and our village. At the end of the event I will ask you take your child's house home to be enjoyed there.

The students were so disappointed to hear the news today…I think I saw tears. I thought it extremely important that the students know how important their hard work is to those that love them the most. If you are able to come in without a challenge please do. If it conflicts with your work schedule at all, it would for me, please do not worry. This is not about presenting to parents, it is just a way to share our hard work! Thanks for your understanding!

Professional Development Plan

State your professional development plan for the duration of your license (5-yrs)/certificate (8-yrs). For assistance in aligning with district or building goals it is recommended that you review the LPDC Guidelines on the district website: www.bbhcsd.org. What specific areas of improvement do you plan to address and why?

Plan Goal #1

Activities

Write in all activities below that may be incorporated into your plan: Workshops/In-services, Coursework(Masters Program, Graduate Level Courses), Professional Conferences, Equivalent Activities(See LPDC Guidelines)

List Activities for Goals

Evaluation

How will your instruction (teachers) or job responsibilities (other credentialed professionals) improve due to the completion of your aforementioned plan and activities? How will the completion of your plan and activities improve student achievement/outcomes?

Evaluation of Goals

About Blogmeister
Perhaps one of the most fascinating tools that has emerged from the Internet cloud in recent years is the Blog. A shortening of the term Web log, the Blog is an online publishing tool that enables people to easily publish their loves, passions, dislikes, peeves, discoveries, and insights.
Thousands of teachers have discovered the value of classroom blogging, both as an avenue for their communications, but also as a tool for giving voice to what their students are learning and how they are learning.
Class Blogmeister is one of several blogging engines that have been developed specifically for classroom use. You are welcome to explore the writings of teachers and students alike.

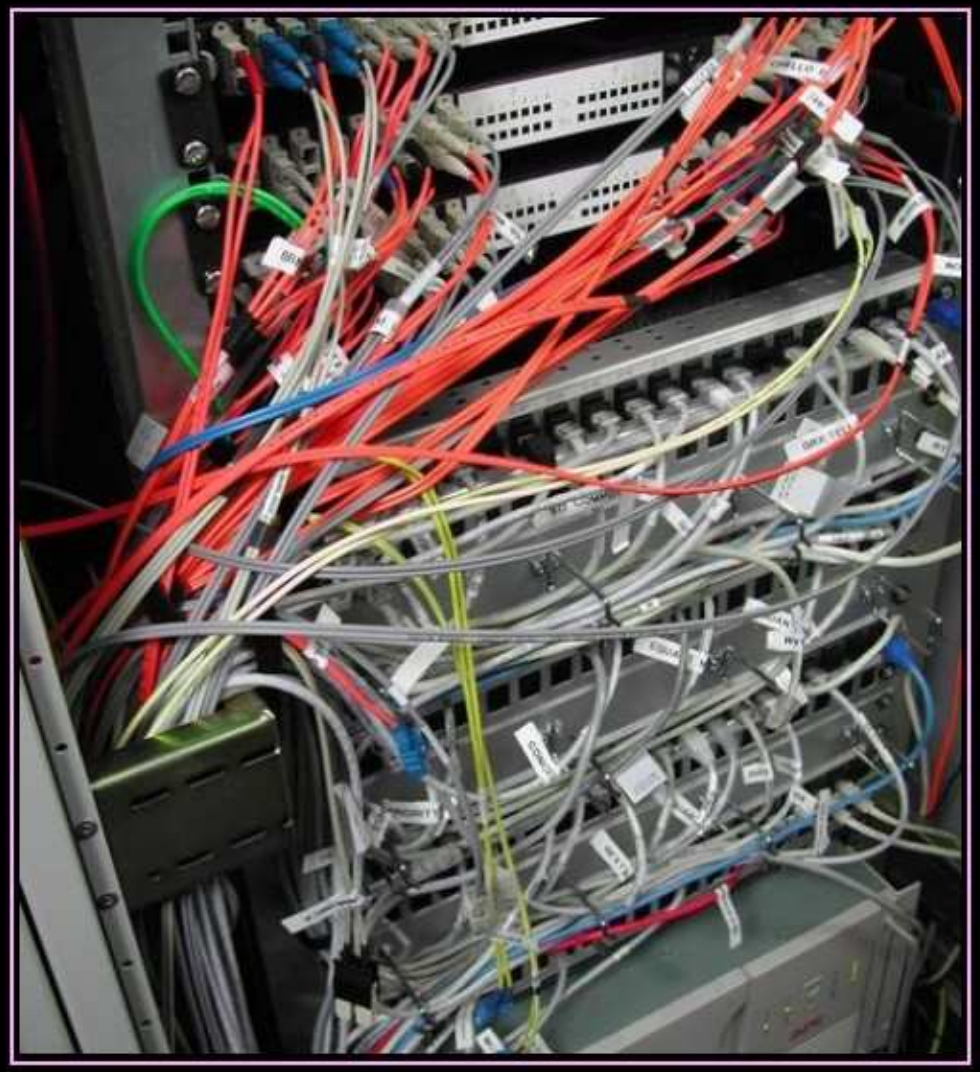
Unsolicited Advice

GET WET

Take it at your own pace. Dive in. Dip your toe.
It doesn't matter. Just get in the water.

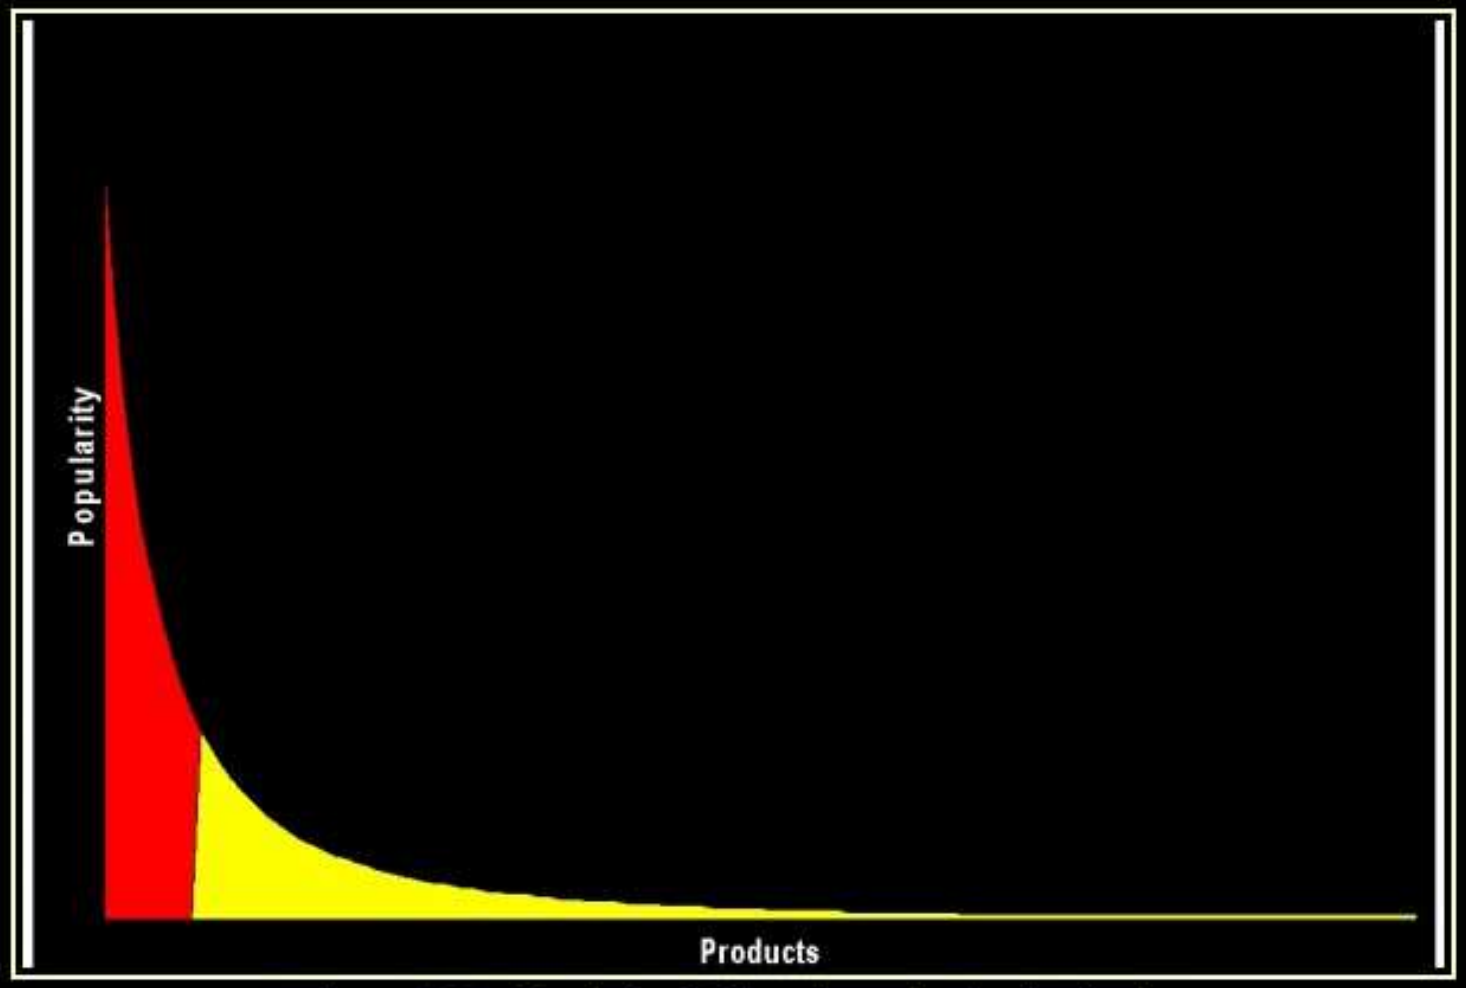
BLOG

It doesn't matter that you don't have anything to say. You'll think of something.



YOUR NETWORK

Build your own network. You're the only one who will understand it, but it will work exactly the way you want it to.



LONG TAIL

Even though nobody cares what you have to say, that doesn't mean you shouldn't blog about it. Someday, someone might care.

SHARE

Nobody's going to pay for your content. You might as well share it and make someone's day a little easier.

GOALS

Set attainable goals. Work hard to achieve them. But don't be afraid to go get a ladder once in a while.

FEARLESS

No matter how badly you screw something up, Jeff has tried and failed at something even crazier, and lived to tell the tale. He's not afraid to fail.
